Dear Holy Rosary Friends and Families,

On Saturday, April 29th, we celebrated the feast of St. Catherine of Siena, one of the most loved and invoked saints of the Dominican Order, indeed of all the Church. God intervened in her life in such an exceptional way in order to speak to the Church powerfully about complete dedication to Christ, fearless love for Him, and willingness to endure all difficulties, including those with the Church. She really is a saint for our times. She knew well the kind of troubles we face.

For some sense of perspective in our own trials, the year Catherine was born (1347), the first cases of the Bubonic Plague appeared in Italy. By the time she was five years old 20 million people in Europe had died, almost a third of Europe's population. (By comparison Covid has killed 7 million throughout the world as of 2023.)

Like our own time, society was marred by political conflicts and Church scandals. City-states in Italy were frequently at war with one another. England and France were in the midst of the Hundred Years War. The moral life of the clergy had declined drastically, priests often abandoning their vows of celibacy and living in concubinage.

While a teenager she convinced her parents to let her to join a group of lay women leading a penitential life under the guidance of Dominican priests. She secluded herself in a small room in the family home to take up a life of quiet prayer. But within a few years Our Lord instructed her to go out into the midst of the world and be His instrument. She began by taking care of the sick, especially seeking out those who had ailments others did not want to care for, and to visit a local prison.

A number of times she reconciled Italian city states that had declared war on one another. And on one of her reconciliation-missions she mediated between the city of Florence and the Papal states, going to Avignon to speak to Pope Gregory XI. In that meeting, the Pope was so impressed with her holiness, and persuaded by her appeals, that he decided to return to Rome after 68 years of the papacy residing in France.

Sadly, in a years-time the Church was thrown into further confusion by a group of cardinals who elected an anti-pope, dividing the faithful into two factions, those in Italy and England going with the duly elected Pope Urban VI, while those in France, Germany, and Spain pledged allegiance to Clement VII.

So Catherine's own time right with our own in social and ecclesial troubles. All the more reason for us to look to her as our guide and inspiration. Her trust was always in the supreme power of Christ fully present and active in every crisis. His own words calling her and us not to fear, as He said to her on one occasion:

... The more the mystic body of holy Church is filled with troubles now, the more it will abound in delight and consolation. And this shall be its delight: the reform of good holy shepherds who are flowers of glory, who praise and glorify

For I, eternal Truth, promise to refresh you, and after your bitterness I will give you consolation, along with great trials, in the reform of holy Church (Dialogue 12).*
