Ordinary Form: Third Sunday of Lent

Dominican Rite: Third Sunday of Lent

Dear Parishioners:

When we think about Lent we think about fasting, prayer and almsgiving. There is a good reason for this. These three practices are important tools in the spiritual life for combating the wiles of the enemy and to grow in the virtues necessary to live the Christian life well. These three practices aren't arbitrary. They are directly opposed to the three-fold concupiscence described in Sacred Scripture, namely, the world, the flesh, and the devil. Fasting assaults the flesh with its base desires. Prayer, our communication with God, directly assaults the attempt of the enemy to deceive us. Almsgiving assaults our worldly covetousness through the requirement of separating ourselves from material possessions. If we are constant in these practices, with the aid of God, we can clear a path for an easier reception of grace and further growth in all the other virtues. Why is this important? Simply put, this world is passing away. It is temporary, transitory, and fickle. Our true homeland is heaven. This being the case, it is essential that we seek holiness here and now so that at the hour of our death we have no terror in our hearts about our particular judgment, but rather, with a soul filled with Divine Love we can make the transition to eternal life in hope, and joy. This requires constant conversation in our own lives. We have to lay down our own willfulness and humble ourselves before God and the revelation of how to live the Christian Life that is safeguarded by Holy Mother Church. As we know, everything she teaches and everything she does (excepting the blemishes made by her members who are yet still sinners themselves) is to achieve our personal holiness and assure our path to heaven. Lent is a time to abandon ourselves to that mission of salvation in very concrete ways. Let it not be said that we have only approached this season as a "Cultural Catholic." Instead, let us strive to live our penitential season with authentic rigor that inspires sentiments of faith, hope, and love.
